Commentary and Statistics

- The S&P 500, Nasdaq and Dow Jones tumbled during a period populated with ongoing Fed speak and White House debate over health care, tax reform and budget priorities. Gold advanced and oil prices dipped. The 10-year U.S. Treasury yield closed at approximately 2.41%.
- A number of Federal Reserve (Fed) officials made policy outlook comments during the week. New York Fed President William Dudley said the U.S. economy is in a pretty good place right now, and that the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) is quite close to achieving its objectives. He added that there could be an inflation problem if the unemployment rate is pushed much lower.
- Dallas Fed President Robert Kaplan said that monetary policy tightening should be done deliberately, but patiently. He reiterated his forecast for gross domestic product (GDP) growth above 2% this year, and he stated that the Fed is reaching the point where it should let the balance sheet run off.
- February new home sales came in at a 592K seasonally adjusted annual rate (SAAR), better than January's upwardly revised 558K level (up from 555K) and well ahead of consensus for 565K. This was the highest reading since July 2016, with sales recovering from a recent trough of 535K in December. Sales have risen 12.8% since February 2016.
- February existing-home sales dropped 3.7% to a 5.48M SAAR, below January's 5.69M reading and the consensus of 5.57M. While this was a drop from January's 10-year high, the pace of sales was still up 5.4% year-to-year. The release further noted that low supply in the affordable range was pressuring prices.

¹ As of 12/31/16, Voya IM assets of $217 billion include proprietary insurance general account assets of $89 billion calculated on a market value basis. Voya IM assets, as reported in Voya Financial, Inc. SEC filings, include general account assets valued on a statutory book value basis and total approximately $211 billion. ² Metrics presented use pre-determined criteria to measure each individual investment product based on its ability to either A) rank above the median of its peer category; or B) outperform its benchmark index on a gross-of-fees basis. Generally speaking, the results for unconstrained, fully-active investment products were based on relevant peer category rankings while those of "enhanced index", rules-based, risk-constrained, or client-specific investment products were based on benchmark-relative performance. Metrics are calculated on an annualized basis and includes mutual funds as well as pooled and separately-managed institutional portfolios that fall within our traditional (long-only) commercial book of business that remain open as of 12/31/16. If terminated and other accounts had been included, results may have differed from that shown. ³ Metrics are based on observations of rolling 3-year annualized returns over the last 30 months, calculated on an annualized, gross-of-fees basis, and includes mutual funds as well as pooled and separately-managed institutional portfolios that fall within our traditional long-only commercial book of business that remain open as of 12/31/16. If terminated and other accounts had been included, results may have differed from that shown. Source of performance returns and peer medians is Voya Investment Management but is based in part on data from Morningstar (mutual funds) and eVestment (institutional composites).
