Commentary and Statistics

- Stock prices declined around the globe as markets struggled with geopolitical indigestion from Washington. Threats against Iran, threats of tariffs on imported autos and cancellation of the U.S.-North Korea summit put investors into “risk-off” mode. Oil prices jumped on news that the supply glut had disappeared, but dropped after Saudi Arabia began to talk of expanding production. Gold prices rose, driven up by geopolitical stressors and easing fears of accelerated Fed rate hikes. The yield on the widely watched 10-year U.S. Treasury note fell back below 3%, finishing the week at about 2.93%.
- The minutes from the FOMC’s May meeting noted that the economic outlook had changed little since the March meeting, and if incoming data confirmed the outlook, it would “likely soon be appropriate” to make another rate hike. The release offered few clues as to the total number of 2018 rate hikes, and did little to shift expectations away from a June increase.
- The U. of Michigan’s index of consumer sentiment registered 98 in May, a step back from 98.8 in April but still historically elevated. Survey respondents cited less-favorable conditions for buying big-ticket items such as homes and motor vehicles.
- The Commerce Department reported that new home sales dropped 1.5% in April, to an annual rate of 662,000 units. Economists had expected 679,000. The report also revised March sales down to 672,000 units from the previously reported 694,000.
- The Chicago Fed National Activity Index, a coincident economic indicator, ticked up to 0.34 in April from 0.32 in March, implying that the U.S. economy continues to grow above trend. The CFNAI Diffusion Index, a leading indicator, moved up to 0.23 in April from 0.11 in March, indicating that U.S. GDP growth is likely to continue to accelerate.

Past performance does not guarantee future results.

<sup>1</sup> As of 03/31/18, Voya IM assets of $227 billion include proprietary insurance general account assets of $87 billion calculated on a market value basis. Voya IM assets, as reported in Voya Financial, Inc. SEC filings, include general account assets valued on a statutory book value basis and total approximately $222 billion. <sup>2</sup> Metrics presented use pre-determined criteria to measure each individual investment product based on its ability to either A) rank above the median of its peer category; or B) outperform its benchmark index on a gross-of-fees basis. Generally speaking, the results for unconstrained, fully-active investment products were based on relevant peer category rankings while those of "enhanced index", rules-based, risk-constrained, or client-specific investment products were based on benchmark-relative performance. Metrics are calculated on an annualized basis and includes mutual funds as well as pooled and separately-managed institutional portfolios that fall within our traditional (long-only) commercial book of business that remain open as of 03/31/18. If terminated and other accounts had been included, results may have differed from that shown. Source of performance returns and peer medians is Voya Investment Management but is based in part on data from Morningstar (mutual funds) and eVestment (institutional composites). Further detailed information regarding these calculations is available upon request. <sup>3</sup> Metrics are based on observations of rolling 5-year or 7-year annualized returns over the last 30 months, calculated on an annualized, gross-of-fees basis, and includes mutual funds as well as pooled and separately-managed institutional portfolios that fall within our traditional long-only commercial book of business that remain open as of 03/31/18. If terminated and other accounts had been included, results may have differed from that shown. Source of performance returns is Voya Investment Management, and further detailed information regarding these calculations is available upon request.
