Investment Weekly

Commentary and Statistics

- Global stocks experienced modest gains for the week; major U.S. equity indexes such as the Nasdaq, S&P 500 and Dow Jones all rose slightly. The 10-year U.S. Treasury yield closed at approximately 1.7%. Oil and gold were also slightly up as investors shifted attention toward earnings season.
- With 23% of S&P 500 companies having reported first quarter results, 78% have beaten earnings expectations while 65% have beaten sales expectations. According to FactSet, the third quarter blended earnings decline stands at -0.3%, a better start than seen in recent quarters. If the index reports negative earnings growth for the quarter, it will mark the first time the index has recorded six consecutive quarters of year-over-year declines in earnings since FactSet began tracking the data in Q3 2008. Hasbro, Netflix and United Health impressed this week; Intel, Rite Aid and eBay were among the disappointments.
- As expectations of a December Federal Reserve (Fed) rate hike grew during the week the U.S. dollar continued to rally, reaching its highest level since March.
- Boston Fed President Eric Rosengren stated that it makes little economic difference bypassing November and waiting until December to hike rates. He said that the election should not play a significant part in the timing decision and noted that the market's current estimate of a 70% chance of a December hike "probably is a reasonable bet."
- The European Central Bank (ECB) left its key policy settings unchanged, as was widely expected. The ECB said its monthly quantitative easing (QE) target will remain at €80 billion until March 2017, or beyond, until it sees a sustained adjustment in the path of inflation.

<sup>1</sup> As of 06/30/16, Voya IM assets of $218 billion include proprietary insurance general account assets of $93 billion calculated on a market value basis. Voya IM assets, as reported in Voya Financial, Inc. SEC filings, include general account assets valued on a statutory book value basis and total approximately $204 billion.

<sup>2</sup> Metrics presented use pre-determined criteria to measure each individual investment product based on its ability to either a) rank above the median of its peer category; or b) outperform its benchmark index on a gross-of-fees basis. Generally speaking, the results for unconstrained, fully-active investment products were based on relevant peer category rankings while those of "enhanced index", rules-based, risk-constrained, or client-specific investment products were based on benchmark-relative performance. Metrics are calculated on an annualized basis and includes mutual funds as well as pooled and separately-managed institutional portfolios that fall within our traditional (long-only) commercial book of business that remain open as of 06/30/16. If terminated and other accounts had been included, results may have differed from that shown. Source of performance returns and peer medians is Voya Investment Management but is based in part on data from Morningstar® (mutual funds) and eVestment (institutional composites). Further detailed information regarding these calculations is available upon request.

<sup>3</sup> Metrics are based on observations of rolling 3-year annualized returns over the last 30 months, calculated on an annualized, gross-of-fees basis, and includes mutual funds as well as pooled and separately-managed institutional portfolios that fall within our traditional (long-only) commercial book of business that remain open as of 06/30/16. If terminated and other accounts had been included, results may have differed from that shown. Source of performance returns is Voya Investment Management, and further detailed information regarding these calculations is available upon request.
